

Q4 2025 Marketing Campaign Summary

Campaign Overview Q4 2025

Total marketing spend Q4 2025: $4.2M across all titles and channels. Primary focus: Stellar Run launch amplification and Dark Orbit retention campaign.

Stellar Run Campaign

Budget: $1.8M. Channels: influencer (45%), social media (35%), display (20%). Results: 18M impressions, 2.1M clicks, 340K new trial sign-ups attributed. CPA: $5.29. Best performing influencer segment: gaming/tech creators on YouTube. Stellar Run trended on social media for 11 consecutive days post-launch.

Dark Orbit Retention Campaign

Budget: \$600K. Target: users who completed $\geq 50\%$ of Season 1. Email + push notification series drove 28% reactivation rate. Average watch time increased 40% among retargeted users in 30-day window.

Comedy Genre Campaign

Budget: $400K across Neon Nights and Silver Lining. Performance below expectations: CTR 0.8% vs 1.4% platform average. Audience feedback: trailers not communicating quality improvement. Recommendation: pause paid comedy acquisition; invest in organic social content.

Channel Performance Table

Social Media: $1.4M spend, 3.4x ROAS, best for 18-34 demo. Influencer: $1.1M spend, 3.9x ROAS, best for Sci-Fi and Action. Display: $900K spend, 1.8x ROAS, declining effectiveness. Search: $500K spend, 2.6x ROAS, strong for intent-driven titles. Email: $300K spend, 2.1x ROAS, effective for retention, not acquisition.
